NO CAUSE FOR ALARM OVER THE SITUATION HERE

Health Officials Think There
Is No Danger of Small-Pox Epidemic.

CONDITION IN PARIS IS REASSURING

Cases Now Isolated and Patients Are Under Guard.

The small-pox situation in Paris and Bourbon county, while so far giving no immediate cause for alarm,
has become a matter of deep concern,
especially among the health officers
of both city and county.

It has developed that reports regarding the situation have been somewhat exaggerated, and while there are a number of cases the condition as it appears is not as critical as the former report would indicate.

Local health authorities have been greatly handicapped in their efforts to check the spread of the disease, owing to its prevalence in adjoining counties, and the manner in which it is being handled by the officials. Constant travel between points where small-pox exists, is said to aggravate the situation here, and most of the cases in this county can be traced to their source.

With a view of providing a place where those infected can receive proper treatment County Judge C. A.
McMillan has decided to secure a building out in the county to be used as an eruptive hospital. He stated yesterday that he did not believe there were any grounds for immediate alarm, and expressed the opinion that the health authorities would in a short time be able to stamp out the disease, and that without very much trouble.

A sweeping order has gone forth from City Health Officer Dr. A. H.
Keller for a strict compliance with the State law regarding vaccination, and as a result a large number have been submitted to the treatment. In the past few days the Health Officer has vaccinated two hundred persons, most of them in the southeast portion of the town, where the residents are most likely to come in contact with the disease. Everything in the power of the health officials is being done to reduce the number of new cases likely to appear, and every precaution is taken to prevent those who have been exposed from coming in contact with other people.

In an interview last night Dr. Keller said: "The reports as to the condition in Paris have been greatly magnified and there is no reason whatever to feel the least bit alarmed over the situation. All of the patients are isolated, and to my knowledge there exists in this city but two cases. The patients are recovering rapidly and will be ready to be discharged from quarantine within a short time.

"All the other patients are confined in the pest house under strong guard day and night, and when a new case develops we lose no time in transporting the patient to these quarters.
The Health Board is receiving the hearty co-operation of both city and county, and there is every reason to believe that the situation is well in hand at this time, and the citizens need have little fear of serious results.

"The people in general are complying readily with the order issued by the Health Board, regarding vaccination. This will greatly assist the officials in their efforts."

Dr. Keller will make a visit to the public schools today and will vaccinate all pupils in both the white and colored schools, who have not complied with the order of the Health Board.

It is the opinion of many that if the health authorities of neighboring counties had exercised the proper vigilance the condition in Bourbon could have been averted. Reports from cities along the line of the Louisville & Nashville railroad between Corbin and Paris are to the effect that more or less small-pox exists. In Winchester the situation is said to be very serious, and the State Board of Health, it is reported, has sent a representative there to investigate. Corbin the end of this division of the L. & N., is said to be literally alive with small-pox, numerous cases appearing daily. Lexington is reported to have a number of cases, all of which are in quarantine.

Small-pox made its first appearance in Bourbon county several months ago, and the source can be traced directly to railroad laborers, who, becoming infected, moved from one town to another in an effort to avoid detection, and this is the cause of the condition in Bourbon county at present.

18 CASES IN LEXINGTON.

LEXINGTON, KY., Jan. 26.—Not-vaccination issued by the City Health

WEEKS SALES BEST OF ANY DURING ENTIRE SEASON

Prices Hold Up Well In Spite of the Poor Grade Offered.

286,000 POUNDS AT
SALE SATURDAY

Over Four Million Pounds
Have Passed Over Market This Season.

The three sales held on the local tobacco market last week were, considering all things, about the best that have been held during any week of the present season. Prices were good considering the quality of the offering and growers were well pleased with the prices received.

The dry weather which prevailed
the early part of the week, made it difficult to handle the tobacco and farmers who had good tobacco to offer would not assume the risk of having it damaged, consequently the market was flooded with the lowest grades. In the three sales of the week a total of 678,665 pounds were sold.

At the sale Saturday 286,050 pounds were disposed of for $34,049.42, an average of $11.90. The morning sale was held on the old floor of the building of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Co., and during the afternoon
tobacco on the new addition was sold.
The grade of tobacco offering in the afternoon was far superior to that of the morning sale and much better prices were realized. The sales to date amount to 4,246,000. Receipts continue heavy and indications point to a full floor for the sale to-day.

The following are some of the crop
averages for Saturday:

Woodford & Honican, 3,580 pounds,
for $574.88, an average of $16.25.
Collier & Mastin, 3,185 pounds, for $436.08, an average of $13.69.
I. W. Thomas, 6,885 pounds, for
$806.25, an average of $14.32.
Miller Lall, 1,660 pounds, an average of $13.50.
Arbery & Earlywine, 2,395 pounds,
an average of $15.82.
Ferguson & Branel, 9,175 pounds,
an average of $14.30.
Talbot & Wagoner, 13,880 pounds,
an average of $12.41.
Skillman & Myers, 3,940 pounds,
an average of $16.25.
Jones & Case, 7,555 pounds, for
$1,024.49, an average of $14.05.
Arbery & Midlin, 1,955 pounds, for $239.97, an average of $17.30.
J. H. Bell, 5,135 pounds, for $834.95,
an average of $16.10.
Houston & Houston, 2,940 pounds,
for $541.66, an average of $14.50.
Newt. Strawther, 5,120 pounds, for $705.20, an average of $13.77.
Beach & Hinton, 3,815 pounds for $629.12, an average of $16.40.
Beach & Carpenter, 2,765 pounds,
for $541.50, an average of $13.60.
Clark & Baker, 7,570 pounds, for
$1,044.42, an average of $13.00.

LEXINGTON.

Sales this week on the Lexington tobacco market amounted to 4,283,705 pounds at an average price of $12.52
a hundred. This is the greatest number of pounds sold in one week in the history of the local market.

Considered as a whole, the quality of the offering was rather inferior.
Low grades prevailed and much decidedly common tobacco was sold.
Color, while not very much in evidence, was in good demand at about the same prices as heretofore, ranging up to $33 the hundred. The market throughout the week was strong and while sales seemingly had a tendency to drag at times, it was due rather to the poor quality of the tobacco than to any lack of interest on the part of the buyers. Rejections were light.

WINCHESTER.

About 250,000 pounds of tobacco
were sold Saturday at Winchester at $2 to $20. The quality was only medium.

FRANKFORT.

A total of 84,285 pounds of tobacco were sold in Frankfort Saturday at an average of $11.75 the hundred.
Prices ranged from 2 1/2 to 20 cents.

MEETING OF CREDITORS TO BE HELD TODAY

A. M. Cox, referee in the bankruptcy case of Albert Jones, proprietor of the National Five and Ten Cent Store, in this city, has called a meeting of the creditors to be held at the court house this morning at which a trustee will be selected to take charge of the affairs.

Board several days ago, and every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease, the number of small-pox patients continues to increase at the Eruptive Hospital near here, there being now confined there eighteen negatives who drifted into Lexington from the railroad camps up the Lexington and Eastern railroad.

NO ORDERS FOR MARINES TO LAND IN VERA CRUZ

President Wilson Characterizes Report as "Interesting Fiction."

MEXICAN SITUATION
SLOWLY CHANGING

Mexican Rebels Massacre 250
Federals Near Vanegas.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Wilson to-day characterized as "interesting fiction" published reports that orders have been sent to Rear Admiral Fletcher to land marines at Vera Cruz and keep open the road to Mexico City in case the Huerta administration collapsed.

From the White House point of view, the situation in Mexico is slowly changing, and the Huerta government is undergoing a "natural decay."

There is no particular development or critical situation in the Mexican problem, or any other foreign question, the President explained to-day which has caused him to call the Senate Foreign Relations Committee
into conference to-night.

A general consultation on foreign affairs was the reason given for the meeting, the President making it plain that although he had tried to keep in touch with the committee heretofore, he would now be able to give a rather systematic attention to foreign relations. The President has a memorandum for to-night's conference, covering a variety of subjects.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 26.—One hundred women and children and one hundred and fifty soldiers were massacred by rebels recently near Van-egas, north of San Luis Potosi, according to reports received here.

The soldiers with the women surrendered to the rebels and were taken to a ranch near Matehula where the alleged butchery occurred.

Major Rebollo and Captain Ramirez and a handful of men were the only ones to escape. They arrived here bringing news of the affair, which occurred several days ago.

"SECRET MEXICAN PROGRAM."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—It is giving out on the authority of a high Mexican source that President Wilson's secret Mexican program is as follows:

1. The voluntary retirement of President Huerta under pretext of taking charge of the Federal army.
2. The elevation of Francisco De La Barra to the Provisional Presidency in Huerta's place.
3. The recognition of the De La Barra government as de facto in the hope that it will acquire sufficient strength to bring permanent peace to Mexico.

This is the plan which the President has been trying to work out since his conference with Special Envoy John Lind at Pass Christian.

WINDSOR HOTEL MAY BE SECURED BY CINCINNATI MAN

Mr. R. S. Dunbar, of Cincinnati, O., has been here for several days in an effort to close a deal for the purchase of the Windsor Hotel, in this city.
Mr. Dunbar has been in conference with the owners, a syndicate formed by the late Judge Parker and under the management of attorney George Webb, of Lexington.

Mr. Dunbar has made an offer for the property, which has not as yet been accepted by the owners, but it is probable that a deal will be closed at a very early date.

The prospective purchaser is a hotel man of considerable experience, and was for seventeen years manager of the Gibson House, one of the most famous hostleries in Cincinnati.

While in Paris Saturday Mr. Dunbar secured figures on the probable cost of fitting the hotel properly to make it one of most modern in Central Kentucky, and it is said that in event the deal goes through the amount of $10,000 will be expended in improvements. It is his plan in event he secures the property to equip it with steam heating apparatus, have the building rewired throughout for electricity, have the plumbing all over the house gone over and baths installed on every floor.

It is the opinion of Mr. Dunbar that Paris can afford a great opening for a first-class hotel, and it is his intention in event the deal now pending goes through to make it one of the most attractive in the State.

NO MARKED CHANGE IN SPRING STYLES

Narrow Skirts, Tunics and Flounces Still Characterize
the New Gowns.

THE NEW MILLINERY

NEW YORK, January 26.—News from the center of fashion is not so alarming as reported a few weeks ago. Then it was said that February would bring such a change in the method of dressing the hair that the styles we have been laboring for, changing our figures and point of view for, would be completely out of date.

February is not quite here, but authorities reassure us and say that the skirts will be as narrow as ever, draping will continue and tunics and paniers are with us for some time to come.

The bustle will probably prove more popular than it has so far. It is simply a bit of bow or drapery in the back, so arranged that there is a decided bulge below the waistline.

The spring fabrics are being shown in all the large stores. The array of cotton materials in a ratine weave seem to be heavy sellers. It is not to be wondered at. The plaids and checks and stripes which appear in these materials are most striking and beautiful.

There seems to be no doubt that Scotch plaid will continue to be worn this season. During the winter it was very popular, worn as tunics, girdles, cuffs, collars, and skirts below coats of plain material in the dominating color of the plaid.

The Liking for Plaids is Carried Over into Cotton Fabrics for Summer. In an exclusive Fifth Avenue shop I saw a chic little frock for a young girl. It was displayed especially for the benefit of our friends and neighbors who shun the cold and migrate to the sunny Southland until Old Winter has passed by on his ceaseless journey. This dress, which is shown in the first illustration, has a waist of ecru batiste made surplice fashion. A wide frill of lace follows the line of the surplice opening around the neck. At the back of the neck it is of plaid cotton oponge, having red as a predominant color, with a little black and white to tone it. The skirt is made with plaits on each hip, giving the up-to-date peg-top appearance. A wide belt and shoulder straps of tulle complete this costume.

Taffeta is extremely stylish and numerous models in advanced styles are shown. Silks having a prettily printed figure are very smart, combined with a plain contrasting material. The second figure shows a pleasing example of this style. The waist is a tunic of creamy printed silk, with collars and cuffs of bluish-gray. The skirt is of bluish-gray cotton duvetyne.

Cotton duvetyne, which is our advertisement of the material of the same name, which has been so popular all winter, is a welcome addition to the summer materials, especially for separate suits and separate skirts. The pile is not so deep as in the winter material, but it is very pliable and drapes beautifully.

A few days ago I attended a review of summer millinery. The hats were displayed on a manikin, and it was noticeable that they were not set as low on the head as formerly. The ears are really and truly exposed.

Some of these hats are small, and follow closely the latest successful winter shapes—sailors that are very good for the debutante; some are covered with moire taffeta, and trimmed with a Pierrot ostrich pompon. Another shape, which would be becoming to the young woman who has been out a season or two, was an elongated tricorn of black straw. On one side was a large bow of light yellowish-green ribbon. The other side was ornamented by a square jet button having a large oval pendant suspended from it.

A shape which will probably take well is called the "Breton." It is small, and has a rolling brim. It was trimmed with two large ostrich pompons.

Some ingenious young man started out on the quest of something to take the place of the feather quill, which has been used so much on our hats. He found an African porcupine, extracted a quill, sandpapered, oiled, and polished it until he had native quill that looked like the quill from a feather. The milliners have taken these as a foundation for ribbon feathers. One pleasing little hat had for its single ornament one of these quills surrounded by a deeply-tucked piece of ribbon, with ends of the quill showing at top and bottom. It was attractive, chic and unusual. A mourning hat was shown with up-turned brim, covered with crepe, had machine stitching all over it, about a quarter of an inch apart. This simulated Persian or baby lamb astonishingly well.

There are fads in dress which come and go. A woman, to be in the fashion must follow conservatively some of these ideas. Dame Fashion is so fond of springing upon us.

One of these trifles, which has the advantage of bringing a somewhat out-of-date dress up to the pink of fashion, is a large linen collar, with flaring points at the shoulders, stiffened to stand out and away from the coat or frock. This is very smart upon a woman to whom it is becoming, but let the other woman beware!

Apples and Other Fruits Approved as Motifs in Printed Silks and Cottons.

Corsage bouquets are still popular, but the very latest whim is a rose embroidered on the waist in the natural colors, just above the belt, where a corsage bouquet would usually be worn.

I saw a very handsome white evening gown trimmed with raised beaded flowers and leaves. Trimming of this kind must be used with discretion, for it might easily become bit-zarre. Black velvet is being worn around the neck sometimes with a pretty, jeweled ornament in front. If the waist has a frill around the neck, this band holds it up in the back.

It is the little things in dress that cause comment and interest. I once heard a famous dressmaker say, that in every toilette there should be one striking motif. Perhaps it is a chain of beads whose colors harmonize so beautifully with the gown. Possibly it is a novel pin, a bit of exquisite embroidery or lace, or a knot of brilliant colored ribbon in exactly the right spot. It is like the flash of a diamond, the something which attracts attention, and holds the eye until the effect of the whole costume has made its impression.

FOR THE GRIP

Peruna Is Sometimes Used With Good Results

Mrs. Jane Gift.
Many people take it after they have had the grip. Their convalescence is slow. They have suffered along for a month or two, without any signs of complete recovery. Then they resort to Peruna as a tonic, with splendid results.

Mrs. Jane Gift, R. F. D. 1, Athens, Ohio, whose portrait appears above, writes: "I think I would have been dead long ago if it had not been for Peruna. Six years ago I had the grippe very bad. The doctor came to see me every day, but I gradually grew worse. I told my husband I thought I would surely die if I did not get relief soon."

"One day I picked up the newspaper and accidentally found a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of grip by Peruna. I told my husband I wanted to try it. He went directly to the drug store and got a bottle of Peruna. I could see the improvement in a very short time and was soon able to do my work. I continued using it until I was entirely cured."

Mr. Victor Patneade, 226 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., writes: "Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and I never really recovered my health and strength, but grew weaker every year, until I was unable to work."

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again. This winter I had another attack of la grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system. My wife and I consider it a household remedy."

Those who object to liquid medicine can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

KITCHEN MOST IMPORTANT ROOM

Government's Farm Architect

Points Out Importance of An

Economically Constructed

and Comfortable Home

to the Farmer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The importance to the farmer of having an economical farm house has been emphasized by the farm architect at the Department of Agriculture, who states that the mental and physical fitness of the laborers both within the house and in the fields are vitally affected by the building that affords the family shelter. The average American farm home has failed to secure in the improvements that are every day being made in agricultural conditions and according to the architect, is a rebuke to our boasted civilization. Relatively, he says, the housewife of a century ago with her fireplace cooking and log cabin was better provided for than is the housewife to-day.

The most important building on a farm is the home. The health, comfort and happiness of the family are dependent upon its construction and equipment, and unless these matters are looked after the sanitary dairy barn or the economically constructed buildings for stock are of little value. Happiness and contentment in the family are essential to efficient service as improved tools and outbuildings.

Although the housewife spends, in many cases, a lifetime in her "workshop" the kitchen and the family rooms, she is not, as a rule, capable of planning a house in the highest degree serviceable and comfortable without assistance. Her help, however, is essential to the farm architect, as the result of his plans must vitally concern her.

In 1910 a Western farm paper, at the suggestion of the Department of Agriculture, conducted a competition for farm house plans. About 660 plans of farm houses were submitted, not one of which was fully satisfactory.

The larger number insisted on some particular pet notion and emphasized a single feature to the neglect of other important ones. The men and women who familiarize themselves with the work to be done and then apply themselves to the single task of devising means, are the ones who, with the co-operation of the farmers, and their wives, can best handle the farm house problem.

One of the most important details regarding the average American farm house is that it must be inexpensive. The average annual net income of a farmer to-day, after deducting five per cent. interest on his investment, is less than $400. This does not mean that the houses may not be attractive. They may, if intelligently planned with the help of vines, shrubs and trees, become the prettiest spots in the landscape, and more beautiful and inexpensive than the crowded city houses.

The tenement-house problem is growing in importance, as can be seen from the fact that the number of rented farms increased by more than 324,000 during the last decade. Today little more than half the farms in this country are operated by the owners.

The possible economy in housewife labor and the conservation of the strength of the housewife are two important factors to be considered in the construction of a farm house. Pleasant and comfortable farm houses tend to hold families together; but the cheerless, unfamiliar and insanitary houses drive boys and girls to the cities. Investigation of prisons, insane asylums and houses of correction, seem to prove the fact that the sins which account for the existence of these institutions are often bred in inadequate and unhappy farm homes. So this social aspect of the problem is considerable.

The public is awakening to the fact that better farm houses are needed, and the special feature which many farm papers now issue as a "House Building Number" proves its interest to thousands of readers.

The Office of Farm Management of the Department of Agriculture has now undertaken this problem systematically and to evolve, if possible, practical improvements for the benefit of the farmer's home.

Certain features are often overlooked in providing economical arrangements for the household when they might be easily provided for. One of the specialists of the Office of Farm Management learned from a woman in Pennsylvania, who had broken down from overwork, that she had been carrying coal from the barn for years. When the husband was asked if there was any reason why a coal bunker could not have been provided near the cookstove and filled directly from the wagon, he answered that there was none, but that no one had ever thought of it. This one detail has been found neglected in other cases where it could have been remedied if only someone had thought of it.

After economy in the construction of the building and in the house work has been attained, attention will be given to developing beauty. Simplicity in line and good proportions are meant by the use of this word beauty, and not so-called applied "ornaments." This simplicity is entirely in keeping with a general plan of economy.

Economy, however, is not a synonym for cheapness. Double strength glass may even be more economical in a tenant house than single strength, notwithstanding its greater first cost. A kitchen sink may a paying investment although it includes a bay window, or a fireplace, which has been the pet notion of the housewife. Screened-in kitchen porches, sleeping porches, double or triple windows and kitchen conveniences are fine economical features which even the smallest house plans may well consider. Separate dining rooms for families that generally eat in the kitchen are less important, as are "parlors." These separate rooms may have complete systems of plumbing, heating and lighting which involve a financial expense. The kitchen is the most important room in the farm house.

For the average farmer, economy bids a room especially reserved for weddings and funerals. A back stairway in small houses is an unnecessary. Large halls which are never used to live in, but merely as thoroughfares, are a feature which can be dispensed with in the interest of a smaller outlay of money.

Other features that should give way to a comfortable and convenient kitchen are narrow porches, fliegree work, numerous angles in walls and roof, useless doors. There should be an intelligent purpose for every cubic foot of space and for every piece of material about the building, if possible.

It may not be found practicable for the Department of Agriculture to furnish plans and specifications of farm houses worked out for particular individual needs. However, it is believed to be desirable to work out plans and specifications for the general needs of farmers and to illustrate and explain the plans so that the farmer may understand the principles involved and apply them when he remodels his present house. The Office of Farm Management is endeavoring to help the farmer and the farmer's wife along these lines.

FOREST NOTES.

There are 36,500,000 young trees in the Government's forest nurseries.

Two tons of cascara bark have just been sold from the Shulaw National Forest, Oregon, at one cent a pound.

The northernmost National Forest is the Chugach in Alaska; the southernmost is the Luquillo in Porto Rico.

For shingles alone, 750 million feet of timber is cut in that part of the State of Washington which lies west of the Cascades.

California led last year in timber sold from National Forests, though Montana had the largest number of sale transactions.

The American Forestry Association has just elected Henry S. Drinker, President of Lehigh University, and P. S. Ridsdale as its President and Secretary respectively.

The biological survey and the Forest Service have been co-operating in the extermination of ground squirrels in the National Forest in California.

The annual loss of range feed and grain crops from ground squirrels is enormous.

Auto will meet prospective buyers at 8:15, 9:00 and 9:45 interurban cars and carry them to and from the sale free of charge.

GREAT BALL OF FIRE
FRIGHTENS CITIZENS

The citizens in the vicinity of Tate's Creek, Madison county, are experiencing somewhat of an excitement as the result of a spectacular phenomenon, which occurred in that section when a large and brilliant ball of fire was seen descending from the heavens, and when within a few feet of the earth burst and flowed in all directions, leaving only a dense cloud of smoke to arise.

IT'S UP TO BUSINESS MEN, NOW!

Millions will be glad that President Wilson's "soft pedal" didn't mean a change of tune. The cord used is a little more silken; but greed is to be hogtied, none the less.

Honest business now sees that it has nothing to lose and everything to gain from President Wilson's trust program. Let's get ready for the new deal based on a square deal and no mercy for wilful robbers.

Heretofore, as the big fellows have squealed, the little fellows have shivered. It was a foolish custom, without warrant in fact, because big greed has been little business's worst enemy.

If, now, honest business is ready to have the outlaws handcuffed, things can soon be made better. The responsibility for the future of American prosperity, therefore, largely rests upon business men themselves. —[Cincinnati Post.]

DOUBLE TAXATION.

THE TEST OF MERIT.

Paris People Are Given Convincing Proof.

No better test can be made of any article than the test of time, and this is particularly true of a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood this test and stood it well. What better proof of the merits of this remedy could you demand, than the statement of a Paris resident who used it successfully and tells of lasting results.

Read the following:
Mrs. Laura L. Lair, 1022 High St., Paris, Ky., says: "I had rheumatism and my kidneys were irregular in action. I suffered from backache and headache, and at times was dizzy and nervous. A neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. They made me strong and well. I have had no sign of kidney trouble since. I gladly confirm the statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills at the time the cure was made."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. (adv)

EX-PARISIANS LOSE ALL
HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS IN FIRE

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Crawford, of Louisville, formerly of Paris, had the misfortune to lose all of their household effects in a fire which destroyed their home in that city last Tuesday evening. The Louisville Post gives the following account of the fire:

"Only a few pieces of porch furniture were saved when the residence of Thomas Crawford, a traveling salesman, at 4602 South Second Street, in Beechmont, burned to the ground Tuesday night.

"The fire started from the furnace in the basement and spread rapidly. The loss is estimated at $15,000 altogether, of which $9,000 is on the house and $6,000 on the furnishings. Mr. Crawford carried $2,000 insurance on the furniture. The house belonged to Mrs. Laura Maxey, now living in Los Angeles.

"Mr. and Mrs. Crawford only returned Tuesday afternoon from Cincinnati, where they had been for several days. Mrs. Crawford was preparing to go to an infirmary Wednesday morning to undergo an operation for appendicitis. They found the house so cold that a fire was started in the furnace, which had been lighted only three or four times during the winter.

"The blaze was discovered shortly after 9 o'clock. Apparently the flames had been smoldering for some time, for the whole front portion of the house burst into flames at once.

"All the members of the Crawford family escaped without injury, but practically nothing was saved. Neighbors cared for them during the night.

"The building was a three-story frame, standing near the corner of Second and Wellington streets."

IF CHILD IS CROSS,
FEVERISH AND SICK

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California" Syrup of Figs.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California" Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California" Syrup of Figs because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California" Syrup of Figs, which has full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups, plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California" Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt. (adv)

TENDERS A CHECK FOR FRANCHISE TAX

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has tendered to State Auditor H. M. Bosworth $114,496 as the amount it considers it owes the State as a franchise tax for 1913. This is the amount at a tax rate of 50 cents on the $100 valuation will raise on an assessment of $22,899,200, that is the identical assessment Judge Cochran, in the Federal Court, said the road must submit to as a condition precedent to obtaining a temporary restraining order in the 1912 franchise tax suits.

As the State Board of Valuation and Assessment fixed the franchise assessment of the Louisville & Nashville for 1913 at $45,658,630, this is taken as an indication that the road will seek to enjoin the enforcement of the balance of the assessment, $22,759,430, as it did in regard to the 1912 assessment. The road has only until January 29 in which to file suit for this purpose.

Assistant State Auditor G. B. Liken accepted the tender to apply on the franchise tax, but not in full. The franchise assessment of the Louisville & Nashville was raised by the State board from $45,428,074 in 1912 to $45,658,630 in 1913. Nearly half, or $22,528,874, of the 1912 assessment has been in litigation in the Federal Court for over a year.

CLARK COUNTY MAN TO ERECT HOME IN BOURBON

The Winchester Sun says: "Oldham & Wills, as agent, sold Friday the farm of Mr. T. L. Holladay, on the McClure pike, three miles from this city, to Mr. J. A. Rose, who will take possession March 1. The price, though private, was said to be in the neighborhood of $15,000. Mr. Rose owns land adjoining his new purchase.

"Mr. Holladay will at once erect a handsome residence on his farm he recently purchased in Bourbon county."

THE FEBRUARY
AMERICAN MAGAZINE

Probably the most remarkable contribution to the February American Magazine is a description of an execution, written by F. P. Dunne, of "Mr. Dooley" fame. Mr. Dunne was a Chicago newspaper reporter at the age of seventeen, and as a reporter saw three men hung. This experience he describes and interprets with such vividness and wisdom as to make perhaps as wonderful a document on capital punishment as anywhere exists.

Hugh Fullerton begins a series of articles entitled "American Gambling and Gamblers;" Ray Stannard Baker begins a series of letters from the field entitled "Seeing America;" Geo. Fitch, the Illinois humorist, describes the "Homeburg Weekly Democrat" in a sketch of life in a small town; Walter Prichard Eaton describes a great and successful fight against loan sharks now being made in Atlanta; W. P. Eaton, the theatrical critic, writes entertainingly and ably on the subject "What is a Moral Play?" and J. Breckinridge Ellis contributes an article entitled "The Finger Test of Literature," which is an account of a blind man's ideas of literature gained from the slow process of finger reading.

Edna Ferber, Kate Jordan, Alfred Ollivant, Samuel Merwin and Marvyn Thompson contribute fiction. Prize-winning letters are published in the contest entitled "What is a Criminal?" The interesting People department contains five short articles about remarkable living Americans: James Montgomery Flagg, Kin Hubbard, Ed. Howe and Oliver Herford make humorous contributions.

FISH COMMISSION AGAINST THE USE OF HOOPNETS

The State Fish and Game Commission is opposing the bill in the General Assembly permitting the use of hoopnets in navigable streams. Almost innumerable little fishing streams in Kentucky have been declared navigable by act of the General Assembly in years past, though some of them will accommodate nothing more imposing than a rowboat. J. Q. Ward proposed that the proposed amendment be accompanied by a law repealing all acts declaring streams navigable, and limiting the term to the big streams, which actually are navigable for steamboats, and that each owner be limited to one net, but this has not been agreed to.

CHLOROFORM ENDS LIFE OF FAMOUS OLD MARE

Maggie F., a prize show mare belonging to Mr. Asa R. Spahr, of Winchester, was chloroformed Saturday, at the age of 33 years. She was sired by Young Jim, out of a thoroughbred, and was never beaten in the show ring. She was the dam of Wanderer, 2:08½, and of Margaret, who made a record of 2:10½ as a three-year-old. The mare died at the J. H. Clelland place, but the carcass will be taken to the Spahr farm, where her owner will erect a handsome shaft at the head of her grave. Maggie F. had a record of 2:21½ to an old-fashioned, high-wheeled sulky, which was much slower than the modern sulky. In a trotting ring at Richmond on one occasion she won a $700 stake, and immediately afterward was shown in the roadster ring, carrying off a $100 Persian rug offered as a prize.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion

It Is the Best Remedy

When you are run-down, no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness, and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve-food tonic, a real builder of healthy nerves, rich blood, strong muscles, good digestion. It contains the Hypophosphites, to tone the nerves and give energy, and pure Olive Oil, to nourish the nerves, the blood, the entire system, and give vitality, strength and health. It is pleasant to take, the greasy flavor of the Olive Oil having been removed. For you who are tired out, nervous, run-down, debilitated, weak, emaciated—for convalescents—for old people—for puny children—we recommend Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion as the best medicine we know of to make and keep you well and strong.

We Make Our Living

out of the drug business right here in your town. It is our duty to give you the best remedy we can for whatever ailment you may have, and business sense demands that we recommend nothing unless we know it's good.

We know Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is good. We believe it is the best builder of health, energy and strength there is made. We know it is greatly helping many of your neighbors. We believe that it will make you well and strong again, and save you money and worry in the end.

We feel it is good business for us to recommend Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion and get you to use it, because we know you'll thank us afterward for making our confidence in it so plain that you didn't hesitate to take us at our word. We also feel sure that once you have used it, you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are and will recommend it to your friends. Read our money-back guarantee and get a bottle today.

Rexall Means "KING OF ALL" — Our's is The Rexall Store in this town.

THE AUTHOR OF "MR. DOOLY" ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

In the February American Magazine, Finley Peter Dunne, famous as the creator of "Mr. Dooley," writes an amazing article entitled "The Majesty of the Law; Impressions of a Boy of Seventeen at a Hanging." Mr. Dunne at seventeen years of age was a Chicago newspaper reporter and as such witnessed a public execution, which he describes and interprets with great vividness. His article is probably one of the greatest documents on the subject of capital punishment in existence. Following is an extract:

"Probably few readers of The American Magazine have ever seen a public hanging. At least I hope this is true and believe it must be so since this form of execution of the law has pretty generally ceased to be a free popular entertainment. In certain parts of the country the public is still permitted to enjoy unlicensed performances of the act of public vengeance. The time has gone by in most places, happily, when thousands of men were invited by courtesy of the Sheriff to feast their greedy eyes on the spectacle of a fellow human being struggling for air at the end of a hempen rope, although there are still many communities in which this form of private theatricals still thrills those who have an interest with the hangman.

"We improve a little in these matters of taste. It is not a long time since public hangings were the amusement of the blackguards of London, when Thackeray wrote his incomparable essay on the subject and Lamb spoke humorously of executions as among the entertainments of the capital. It was not long before that when little children played marbles under the wayside gibbets from which the skeletons of criminals tossed in their rags in the wind, and a girl was hanged in London for picking up a bolt of cloth which she afterward replaced on the counter of the shop. And this in a century when the Wesleys were preaching, and writing hymns, and Burke was declaiming against the iniquity of the French in guillotining their King. So the world does move a little.

"We laugh at the ugly figure of the hangman in 'Barnaby Rudge,' who hated the Government because it had cut down the number of crimes for which men could be hanged and so reduced the importance of his 'Protestant, Conservative and British' office. But aren't we laughing a little early? It took a good many years for 'mawkish sentimentality' to soften this particular official manifestation of the passion of revenge and the enjoyment of the sufferings of others which still lurks in the hearts of men."

When a man gets married and finds that he has been in love with a bunch of cotton batting, the honeymoon crawls out of a back window and beats it.

Some of us do not use canes and haven't any use for them. Some of us are also prejudiced against those who wear canes for ornament. Why not enact a law reducing the number of cane carriers to one in each 500 of population and appoint a State Commission to license cane carriers and select the lucky men who shall receive the licenses. If we must have paternalism, let's have it all the way down the line.

There are a whole lot of business men who find it hard to imagine that there were ever any early settlers in this country.

HOW THE WEATHER BUREAU
FORECASTS STORMS AND FLOODS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Many people have an idea that there is something mysterious and occult about the work of the Weather Bureau in forecasting the coming of storms, frosts and floods. Not a few think that the observers must necessarily get their data by reading the planets, the stars and the moon. As a matter of fact the forecaster of the Bureau foretells the coming of disturbances in a business-like way, very similar to that in which a man who has ordered a shipment of goods would estimate the date of its arrival. Suppose a business man had ordered a carload of pineapples from the Hawaiian Islands. He would know the average time it would take the steamer to make the trip to the Pacific port, the average time for unloading and loading into refrigerators or cars, and the average number of days to be allowed these cars for their trip across the continent to New York. His estimate, however, would be subject to error because the steamship might be delayed by fog, or the cars might meet with an accident.

Storms, like pineapples, as a rule do not originate in the United States. They come to us, some from the Philippines, Japan, Siberia, Alaska, Canada or the Gulf of Mexico. The Weather Bureau gets cable, telegraphic or wireless notices of a foreign storm. Station after station, or vessel after vessel reports the storm's arrival in its neighborhood, so that the general direction and rate of progress can be determined very nearly in fact, the arrival of some storms can be forecasted ten days in advance.

The forecasters watch for the region of low barometer which is the storm center around which the winds blow. This whirl or eddy moves bodily forward with the general eastward drift of about 560 miles a day in our latitudes. As the lines of equal pressure (isobars) around the low center crowd closer together, the winds attending the storm increase in force. The forecaster determines the direction of movement of the storm and its velocity.

When weather disturbances are reported, the forecasters know from experience about how long it takes them to reach the Pacific coast, and then how long after they will reach the Atlantic coast. For example, if a storm coming from Siberia drifts eastward around the North Pole and reappears in Alaska, it should appear in Washington and Oregon in about two days; should get to the Great Lakes in six days and to the Atlantic coast in seven or eight days.

Unexpected conditions may delay storms or divert them from the straight track just as a refrigerator car may be thrown off its schedule or be shipped by accident on a wrong road. Some of these storms deplete themselves by running into regions of high barometer which are of greater magnitude and extent than the storm itself. Some of them, however, travel completely around the world.

To keep tabs on cold waves that come into the United States from Canada and Alaska, the Weather Bureau studies the Canadian Weather reports. England sends reports from Iceland, the British Islands and Continental Europe, and daily reports come from St. Petersburg on the conditions in Russia and Siberia.

The same business-like system used in tracing the track of a storm is applied in determining the arrival of frosts.

Flood forecasts are made in much the same way. Information as to the amount of rainfall at the head waters of streams that cause floods are covered by telegraphic reports sent by local observers. As this rain reaches the main channel, the height of the water in the channel is determined by successive gauging stations. Past records establish how much a height, say of 20 feet, at Dubuque, Iowa, will produce at Davenport, an other station 80 miles down the Mississippi. This plan is followed all the way, and at each point full allowance is made for the effects of water from tributaries, and from additional and local rainfall. As a result of these observations in the recent flood, the people of Cairo had a warning a week or ten days in advance. The Pittsburg district can be given only 12 to 24 hours' notice, because a flood is upon them within 24 hours after a heavy rain storm.

The trouble with Temperance Lectures is that the people who need them never attend them.

THE INCOME TAX RECORD AND FORESTRY.

WASHINGTON, January 24.—For several years lumbermen see in a decision of the Treasury Department in regard to the administration of the income tax a strong argument for forestry. As they interpret the opinion of the Treasury officials they understand that no timberlands shall be subject to the tax until the timber is cut and marketed and that then the profit only will be subject to income tax assessment. In other words, all costs will be deducted before the tax is levied, and these will cover the cost of growing the timber, including the cost of planting where necessary and of protecting the growing crop from fire and other depredation.

This decision was based upon a request for information made by P. S. Ridsdale, Secretary of the American Forestry Association. He asked if there would be a tax on the value of the yearly growth of timber whether it was cut or not, and also whether an income tax would be assessed on the value of the timberland. In reply, the Treasury Department said that the gain from the cutting and disposal of stumpage was realized in the year during which the timber is cut and disposed of, and that the amount received in excess of the cost of such timber is profit, and should be so accounted for as income for that year.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years the doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MR. WILSON DOES NOT SMOKE.

(Manchester Union.)
Shortly after his election last fall resident Wilson was presented a handsome meerschaum pipe, gold-mounted and amber-stemmed. In response, he gave this account of himself: "My father was a smoker of the attainments and had got to the stage where he liked a fat, black cat. In his leisure hours my mother took advantage of his habit and employed him to blow pungent smoke over her rose bushes to kill insects. One day when he was not at home he suggested that I try it on one of her favorite plants, and I obliged somewhat proudly. For five minutes steamed away like a furnace, and then it hit me with disastrous effect. never tried it after that."

IS STOMACH TROUBLES OVER

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without worry? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Baker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says: "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets; then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers. (adv.)

NERVOUS PEOPLE

are usually thin and easily worried, sleep does not refresh and the system gradually weakens from insufficient nourishment.

Scott's Emulsion corrects nervousness by its force of concentrated medical nourishment—it restores the healthy action of body cells, enriches the blood, sharpens the appetite, and feeds the nerve centres by distributing energy and power all over the body.

Don't resort to alcoholic mixtures or drug concoctions that stimulate and stupefy.

Get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion for your nerves—nothing equals or compares with it, but insist on Scott's.

Rheumatism, Sprains Backache, Neuralgia

"Yes, daughter, that's good stuff. The pain in my back is all gone—I never saw anything work as quickly as Sloan's Liniment." Thousands of grateful people voice the same opinion. Here's the proof.

Relieved Pain in Back.

"I was troubled with a very bad pain in my back for some time. I went to a doctor but he did not do me any good, so I purchased a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, and now I am a well woman. I always keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment in the house."—Mrs. Maudie C. 364 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Sciatic Rheumatism.

"We have used Sloan's Liniment for over six years and found it the best we ever used. When my wife had sciatic rheumatism the only thing that did her any good was Sloan's Liniment. We cannot praise it highly enough."—Mr. F. J. Des Moines, Iowa.

"I was ill for a long time with a severely sprained ankle. I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and now I am able to be about and can walk a great deal. I write this because I think you deserve a lot of credit for putting such a fine Liniment on the market and I shall always take time to recommend Dr. Sloan's Liniment."—Mrs. Chas. House, Baltimore, Md.

MYSTERY OF GREWSOME FIND IS EXPLAINED.

The finding of a skeleton buried beneath about a foot of earth under the site of an old buggy house on the old Gibson farm near Little Rock, Friday, caused considerable excitement in that neighborhood. The grow-some find gave rise to the opinion that a man in that neighborhood, who disappeared several years ago, met with foul play and the murderer to conceal the crime buried the body.

Mr. James Gibson, a brother of Mr. W. L. Gibson, who before his removal to Oklahoma, several years ago, owned the farm where the skeleton was found, Saturday explained the presence of the skeleton.

In 1883 Mr. Gibson began the study of anatomy under Dr. Wilkerson, of Little Rock, preparatory to taking a course of medicine in a Louisville college, and about that time he went to the home of his brother to stay while he with his wife were on a protracted visit to relatives in Missouri. Mr. Gibson secured the loan of the skeleton from Dr. Wilkerson and removed it to the home of his brother where it remained for some time. Shortly after the return from Missouri of Mr. W. L. Gibson he went to the mountains of Kentucky on a business trip, but before going he placed the skeleton in the buggy house and concealed it with a lot of wood, so strenuously did the family object to its remaining in the house. Upon his return it was his intention to return the skeleton to its owner.

During his absence, however, the wood was removed from the buggy house and when the skeleton was found it was buried beneath the floor of the structure. The disappearance of a certain man from that neighborhood, who was never heard of afterwards, and who was known to be an enemy of the Gibsons, gave rise to the opinion that he had been foully murdered and the remains found in the place where the skeleton was found. When the finding of the skeleton became known to Mr. Gibson, he hastened to make an explanation. It is reasonable to believe, however, that the suspicion was groundless, because of the fact the Gibsons were not of the stripe to be afraid to meet a foe at any time.

FIXES VALUATION OF THE L. & N. FRANCHISE

At Maysville, Saturday, Federal Judge Cochran issued a restraining order prohibiting State Auditor of Public Accounts H. M. Bosworth from apporportioning or certifying or enforcing the franchise assessment of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company tax based upon total assessment of valuation of not more than $22,899,020.

The assessment made by the State Board of Equalization was upon valuation of more than $45,000,000. W. H. Colston, general solicitor for the company, made the argument before the court.

The order restrained the Auditor from certifying the balance of the assessment to the county and cities.

DEATHS

GRACE.

—Mrs. B. Grace, of Lexington Avenue, Lexington, died Friday morning at the home of her son, J. E. Grace, in Covington, Ky. Mrs. Grace is survived by the following children: Miss B. Grace, Thomas F. Grace formerly of this city, but now a resident of Tampa, Fla.; J. E. Grace, of Covington, and Michael Grace, of Georgetown.

Mrs. Grace made her home with her daughter in Lexington, but recently went for a visit to her son, J. E. Grace, of Covington, and her fatal illness came at the home of the latter son.

She formerly resided with her son, Mr. Ed. Grace, while he was a resident of this city.

The funeral was held at the Catholic Church in this city yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBryun. Burial in the Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were: Messrs. C. J. Reagan, John Sheehan, Samuel Blount, Malcolm Brown, Prof. E. M. Costello, T. F. Brannon, James Burke and John Luby.

EAGLES' MINSTRELS ONE OF BEST AMATEUR PERFORMANCES

One of the most pleasing events of the theatrical season was the minstrel given last Friday night under the auspices of the local lodge of Eagles, and which was largely attended, the crowd being the largest to witness an amateur performance in this city in many years.

The personnel was entirely home talent, and the performers acquitted themselves with marked credit, notwithstanding the short time devoted to rehearsals. Mr. Willard Rummel, the director, is deserving of all the credit which resulted in such a decided success.

The end men were Harry Saloshin, Dr. Harry Mathers, Anderson Cahal, Dr. A. H. Keller, Harry Horton and Pearce Paton, while Dr. W. C. Usery, an old-time theatrical man, presided as interlocutor in his usual pleasing manner. The jokes, many of them being local, took the house by storm.

The headliner of the occasion was Harry Saloshin, who for a good many years has figured prominently in home talent performances. He had a clever line of end-jokes, and his monologue in the second part was one of the principal features of the performance. Brannon and Wollstein were clever in a black-face sketch entitled "The Fast Mail Train." The musical numbers were all well rendered and a large chorus of thirty voices added much to the musical end of the program.

THEATRICAL.

The Columbia Today.

"American Born" (American)—Special feature in two parts. The scenes of this vivid drama are laid in the rugged Rocky Mountains and on a great estate in England. Sydney Ayers plays the chief role, with Vivian Rich opposite him. These two players as well as the rest of the company handle their parts successfully. Dorothy is an American born child of English parentage and learns of her position only at her grandmother's deathbed. She goes to England, establishes her identity and finds that she is the owner of considerable property. She falls in love with a young English Lord, but financial reverses force him to go to America to seek his fortune. Before doing so he thinks it his duty to break the engagement. Dorothy learns that his destination is the same region in which she was brought up. Crossing in disguise on the same steamer she reaches the locality first. There her fiancé rescues her from assault, though without knowing who she is, as she is made up in Indian disguise. He soon discovers her and they go back to England together in the end.

"Fatty Joins the Force" (Keystone). This is a roaring piece of comedy which has a laugh in every flash. There is not a very distinct story and the film really has to be seen to be appreciated. Suffice it to say that Fatty joins the police force, goes in swimming while on duty in the park and plunges not only into the water, but into a rather embarrassing batch of circumstances. It is an extremely good film for straight entertainment.

The Alamo Today.

"Caprice," with Mary Pickford, in motion pictures. The Famous Players Film Company presents the popular play, "Caprice," with no less a star in the leading role than Mary Pickford. This popular player and noted play should prove a nappy combination. "Caprice" is a pleasant play proving that love levels all, and Miss Pickford is as ideal in the part of "Mercy" as the play is suited to herself.

The motion picture production abounds in many landscape and country scenes, and flashes from these to elaborate mansions, imposing drawing rooms—from the freedom of God's country to the yellow glare of city lights. In a word it may be summed up as an echo of the hills mingled with the voice of the city.

A categorical review of all the meritorious details that enter into and comprise the production are not necessary, when it is remembered that the producers, the Famous Players Film Company, are establishing new standards in picture-making, and elevating the film to a higher plane than has heretofore been contemplated. COLONIAL COMPANY WILL LEASE THE PARIS GRAND

The Colonial Amusement Co., operating a chain of moving picture theatres in Central Kentucky towns, including the Alamo Theatre, in this city, is on a deal for the lease of the Grand Opera House, in this city, and the negotiations will probably come to a close within the next few days.

It is the hope of the head of the company to assume charge of the local theatre March 1, when the lease held by R. E. Shea & Co. who for the past three years have held the management, will expire.

The Colonial Amusement Co., of which Mr. J. B. Elliott is president, controls moving picture theatres in Lexington, Frankfort, Georgetown, Richmond, Winchester and Maysville. The opera house will be operated in connection with the Alamo Theatre. It is the plan to keep the house open during the summer months, when the feature film service for which the company has contracted will be shown, and during the regular theatrical season only high-class attractions will be played.

The lease for the local opera house has been forwarded to the officials of the company, at Lexington, and it is expected to be in the hands of the owners within a few days.

LOVE VALUED AT SIX CENTS.

A jury in the Supreme Court of New York in a verdict returned recently, awarded six cents damages to John Ernest Wadleigh against Loring Tonkin, in the former's suit for $25,000 against Loring for alleged alienation of the affections of the former wife of Wadleigh, now Mrs. Leo Lemonek, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Lemonek, an actress, testified her smile was worth $1,000,000, in her opinion. COLUMBIA THEATRE IS

BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin damaged the Columbia Theatre, in the Odd Fellows' building, at the corner of Main and Fifth streets, Saturday morning, about 3:30 o'clock. The fire was discovered by Special Policeman Ben Spears, who in his regular rounds discovered smoke issuing from the doors and windows of the first floor. Without waiting to investigate Mr. Spears turned in an alarm from box 42, and the fire department responded.

When the firemen entered the building, the rear of the room utilized as a moving picture theatre, was burning rapidly, and for a time it was thought a serious conflagration would be the result. The flames, after consuming the screen, were rapidly eating through the woodwork and into the second floor of the building. The piano pit at the end of the theatre was flooded with water in an effort to check the flames, while chemical extinguishers in the hands of the firemen on the second floor kept the fire in check.

A considerable amount of the wood work on the second floor was charred by the flames and the rear of the first floor was considerably damaged, and it was estimated that the owners will suffer a loss of about $400, while the damage to the building will not exceed that amount. The report that the fire was caused by defective electric wiring was without foundation, as investigation revealed the fact that there was no current turned on in the building at the time the fire was discovered.

Mr. Spears who discovered the fire, covered a number of fires while patrolling his beat, and his prompt action has prevented considerable fire loss.

EX-PARISIAN TO HAVE GUIDE BOOK ISSUED.

Mr. T. Philip Terry, who formerly resided with his parents in this city, and who has traveled extensively in the far East and made several trips around the world, has just completed a book which will be issued early in February by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. The work is the first guide book on the Baedeker plan ever made of Japan and its colonial possessions, and will contain upward of 1,100 pages and 29 maps and plans, and beside a description of Japan will also contain detailed references to Formosa, Korea, and the chief ocean routes thereto.

Mr. Terry, who is a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, has devoted ten years of study and travel to the preparation of this book, and has recently returned from Japan to his home in Massachusetts.

Mr. Terry is also the author of an accepted guide book to Mexico, where he spent several years after leaving Paris. His friends here are glad of his literary success.

"COLD" CHECK BILL PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Four bills passed the House of Representatives Saturday, that providing a penalty for executing a check for an amount in excess of deposit to the credit of the drawer in bank; that permitting unclassified towns or taxing districts having municipal powers and a certain population to be incorporated; that requiring State employees to file with the Auditor of Accounts an itemized statement of traveling and other incidental expenses, and that permitting the Secretary of State to charge a fee for supplying copies of records.

M. S. Walton, of Lexington, bears the distinction of having offered the first bill to pass the House, that aimed at the practice of writing "cold checks." It was drafted by the Credit Men's Association of Kentucky and was passed by a vote of 65 to 7. An amendment by V. C. Fraser, of Ballard, giving the executor of a bad check twenty days in which to make it good, was voted down.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Digests Food When Stomach Can't—Cures Indigestion.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite food without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. (adv)
